113 General information
ANDORRA, A NATURE DESTINATION

Andorra is a special country with a personality of its own. We offer strikingly beautiful landscapes, where the mountains are the main attraction for both sports enthusiasts and those who love to be surrounded by nature, enjoying the animals and plants that live there.

The deepest valleys lie between peaks of almost 3,000 metres, like Comapedrosa and Estanyó, in this small country where even the city of Andorra la Vella stands 1,000 metres above sea level, on a plain through which the Valira River also flows. A truly idyllic setting where city and nature combine to offer many opportunities for leisure and entertainment for anyone visiting Andorra. In fact, the chance to do outdoor activities in such strikingly beautiful surroundings is one of Andorra’s main attractions.

Would you like to go further, and dive into a natural area of unique beauty? The Madriu-Perafita-Claror Valley, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is a magical destination for fans of ecotourism. Here, you can lose yourself in one of the richest landscapes you could possibly imagine, you can take a hike or horseback ride and discover unique places.

You also have the chance to discover the Three Pyrenees Nations Park, one of the largest cross-border protected areas in Europe, made up of the High Pyrenees Natural Park, Ariége Pyrenees Regional Natural Park, Sorteny Valley Nature Park and Comapedrosa Nature Park.

Visiting the Sorteny Valley Nature Park is a unique opportunity for nature lovers to discover more than 800 species of flowers and plants. The area is also very rich in fauna, with chamois, roe deer, marmots, and pine martens populating the park. This valley is also home to two of Andorra’s tallest peaks, rising nearly 3,000 metres: l’Estanyó and la Serrera.

Discover the Sorteny Valley
You can easily explore this park on your own, but if you want to learn more about some of its most interesting aspects you can do one of the interpretive trails highlighting butterflies, birds or wetlands. A visit to the Grau de la Llosa viewpoint at 2,035 m above sea level is also highly recommended for its views, its toposcope and relaxation area.

Vegetation
The park contains two vegetation zones—alpine and sub-alpine—where you can discover black pine forests and many wetland areas home to species like the Pyrenean brook salamander, carnivorous plants, and eye-catching plants like orchids and cotton. The alpine meadows are also used for livestock activity.

You can find part of the plant diversity of the different environments of the high mountain areas in a botanic garden, with access for the disabled.

Fauna
The park is also very rich in fauna. Amphibians, reptiles, mammals and birds can be found here. Insects are also prominent, particularly a wide variety of butterflies. It’s a great place to see birds like the rock ptarmigan, golden eagle, short-toed snake eagle and bearded vulture. Remember that you can find Borda de Sorteny, a renovated refuge with accommodation, catering services and toilet facilities.

HOW TO GET THERE

MADRIU-PERAFITA-CLAROR VALLEY

In 2004, this valley was named a UNESCO World Heritage Site in the category of cultural landscape, a privilege to which only 114 places around the world have gained access.

Located in the south-eastern part of the Principality of Andorra, it includes the parishes of Encamp, Andorra la Vella, Sant Julià de Lòria and Escaldes-Engordany, representing no less than ten percent of the entire country.

As you cross the 12 kilometres of the valley, you’ll come across wonderful landscapes and a wide variety of flora and fauna, with some very rare species and others in danger of extinction.

This valley will also stun you with its cultural heritage: the traditional cottages, the restored shepherds’ huts, the field boundary walls and, above all, the cobblestoned path corresponding to part of the GR7 and GR11 trails.

The Coronal lacs Trail

This is one of the most attractive trails in the country, and part of it passes through this valley. It’s a round hiking route that connects the four renovated refuges in Andorra, covers 92 kilometres and is packed with spectacular views. It can be completed in about five days and is designed so that the traveller spends one night at each refuge.

The trail starts in Escaldes-Engordany, in the centre of the Principality, and offers varying levels of difficulty along the route. We recommend that you book your accommodation in each refuge in advance, when preparing your trip.

Sports activities

This valley provides a wide range of options enabling you to enjoy the outdoor life doing sporting activities. Hiking, horse riding through the area, climbing, legally-regulated hunting and fishing, and a wide variety of winter sports, like snow-shoeing and ski mountaineering, are other attractions for visitors to this valley.

Protected natural areas
COMAPEDROSA NATURAL PARK

Located in the north-west of the Principality, this nature park is home to the country’s highest peak l’Alt del Comapedrosa (2,942 metres) and offers high mountain landscapes of surprising beauty.

To get to know Comapedrosa, follow the park’s trails and visit the Comapedrosa Visitor Centre, which offers all kinds of information about this nature area. As a point of interest, it is worth noting that the park offers a geocaching service, designed so that visitors can use GPS to discover the area’s most singular spots.

The park managers can offer you many different options for getting to know the park better, such as following the interpretation trail, which provides information, in a safe and accessible manner, about the area’s characteristics from a physical, biological and human viewpoint. They also organise guided visits into the park.

It is also worthwhile following one of the paths and trails that criss-cross the park, such as the Pla de l’Estany trail.

A visit to this park will give you the opportunity to gaze upon incredibly beautiful scenery, from various lookout points, such as Sabina rock. This panoramic viewpoint lies at the foot of the pistes of the Arinsal ski station, almost 1,900 metres above sea level. There’s an orientation panel with a panoramic photograph of all the different elements in the landscape, from both a geological and a scenic perspective.

Don’t forget that the park offers a service for guided visits on foot or horseback, led by professionals, which will help you to discover the most striking places in the area.

ACCESSIBLE TOURISM IN ANDORRA

Andorra is criss-crossed by roads that allow tourists to discover its history and the best-kept secrets of its rich natural heritage.

Here, we suggest some of the main routes through Andorra, designed to be accessible for people with any type of physical disability. Everyone can, and should, get to know the fantastic natural and cultural treasures of Andorra!
CIRCUIT OF LES FONTS - ENGOLASTERS, ESCALDES-ENGORDANY

This circuit for blind or visually handicapped people was the first of its kind in Andorra. One of the aims of this project was to promote the area of Engolasters in terms of tourism and leisure activities, as well as introducing its natural beauty to tourists of all kinds. The circuit was adapted with the help and advice of the office of ONCE (the National Organisation of Spanish blind people) in Lleida.

One of the key points of this circuit is the use of materials and colours in areas where the route changes, to help people with impaired sight anticipate the presence of possible obstacles in their path.

The specially adapted path covers almost 1,200 metres, and stretches from the circuit of les Fonts to the rest point at Corralets. The whole route is 2.8 km in total, and can be covered in little more than an hour and a half without difficulty.

Along the route, you’ll come across 4 natural springs, with a truly magical beauty. The first, and one of the most notable, is the fountain of les Ordigues.

NATURLANDIA, SANT JULIÀ DE LÒRIA

If you and your family are animal lovers, then Naturlandia really is the place for you. This park, situated in the town of Sant Julià de Lòria, is a true paradise for tourists who want a close-up view of animals in their natural habitat.

Passing through the various zones of Prat de Conangle, you’ll come across many different species that share their space with the tourists, whose safety is of course guaranteed at all times.

Roe deer, sika deer, fallow deer, mouflons, Nordic lynx, wolves, Pyrenean chamois form part of the wide array of animals that coexist in Naturlandia together with the visitors who come to this park.

GR (LONG-DISTANCE) TRAILS

If you really want to get to know Andorra, you have to travel the country on foot. Each step will take you deeper into its amazing scenery and allow you to discover its best-kept secrets.

The country has many different paths and trails that lead you to its mountains, lakes and nature parks via signposted routes.

GRP

If you like walking in the great outdoors, the GRP (Andorra’s long-distance trails) will be your guide to discovering the true essence of the country. Totalling 120 kilometres, they form a route that is divided into several stages, of up to 20 km each. Along this route, you will find 30 refuges, 6 of them manned, where you will be able to rest and continue the walk at your own pace.

Do you want to know more about these trails? The topographical guide “Andorra GRP, a tour around the whole country”) and the Map of Andorran refuges and long-distance trails will provide you with all the information you need about the various routes through the country’s mountains.

Andorra’s GRT cross-border long-distance trails

From Spain to Andorra in a route comprising 3 to 5 stages. If you follow the 3 Nations Route, you’ll pass through Ariège, the Catalan comarque of Pallars and Andorra. You’ll also travel through the Comapedrosa Natural Park, the l’Alt Pirineu Nature Park, and the Ariège Pyrenees Regional Nature Park.

The Lakes Route is a long-distance trail that starts in Soldeu or l’Hospitalet-près-l’Andorre and ends at the Siscaró refuge.

HRP (Hight Route of Pyrenees)

One of the most complete trails through Andorra. If you walk along it, you’ll join it from the west of Andorra, through Port de l’Arbella and follow the GRT of the Three Nations Trail until you reach the town of El Serrat.

From here, you'll continue on the GRP of the Sorteny Valley Nature Park up to the Manegor Valley, where you can link up with the Lakes Route.

You’ll pass the renovated refuge in Juclà going towards Siscaró and Port Dret and enter Solana d’Andorra. Then you follow the path along the...
Coll dels Clots until you reach France. From here you can descend to Hospitalet-près-l'Andorre as far as the refuge in Les Bésines. You will take about 2 to 3 days, depending on your pace and which refuges are open.

GR7

A trail that offers spectacular views, thanks to an altitude difference of as much as 2,000 metres. It forms part of the European route E-4, which passes through Andorra for some 40 km, from the east to the south.

GR11

This route is known as the Grand Tour of the Pyrenees and The Pyrenean Path. If you want to do the whole route, you should know that it includes 47 stages, no less, and isn’t confined to Andorra. In fact, it crosses the Pyrenees from Cape Higuer on the Cantabrian Sea to Cap de Creus in Girona, and passes through the valleys of Andorra on the way. Are you up for it?

Others routes

El Camí del Retrobament (The Road of the Re-encounter) joins the French town of Auzat with La Seu d’Urgell. Therefore, you’ll cross the whole of Andorra.

The Bear route (camí de l’Ossa) takes you through the parishes of Encamp and Escaldes-Engordany on a circular route that takes 2 days.

Another option for discovering Andorra in a different way is El Camí, a hiking trail that crosses the country and brings you into contact with its rich cultural heritage. + info: elcami.cat

Estripagecs: A challenge for mountain lovers, to summit the six most emblematic peaks of Ordino and see their “estripagecs” structures.

Walls of Water is a series of trails taking in the five natural lakes that serve as hydraulic reservoirs.

Cal Pal is launching the dry stone routes, a series of itineraries with this ancient building technique as the common theme, allowing you to discover different spots in Andorra that are of great natural, architectural and scenic interest. More info: https://www.primerapedra.com

Tomb Lauredià consists of six routes:

- 2 easy (4 km)
- 2 medium (8 km)
- 2 difficult (16 km)

These routes make it possible to explore much of the cultural and natural heritage in Sant Julià de Lòria.

Outdoor activities

Download “Andorra active tourism”
Have you decided to do one of the hikes we’ve suggested? If so, then you should know that Andorra has 30 refuges - 6 of them manned - which play a key role in all of these routes. Thanks to these refuges, you can consider routes taking several days through the country’s mountains and valleys, knowing that you can count on comfortable accommodation and all the services you need to rest and recover before starting out again.

The refuges are carefully maintained and refurbished regularly by the Andorran government, and can accommodate between 5 and 50 people.

La Coronallacs

This circular walking route connects four of Andorra’s six manned refuges. The route covers a total of 92 kilometres of mountain scenery with spectacular views and is divided into five long stages. Each one covers a distance of between 13 and 22 kilometres, an average of 18.4 km per day, which is fairly demanding for walkers.

ECOTOURISM ROUTES

The flora and fauna of Andorra are truly impressive, and with instruction from the country’s top mountain experts, you can gain a different perspective on the Principality’s landscapes.

Among other activities, these trips will allow you to watch endangered species of birds, such as the bearded vulture and the tiny goldcrest.

You’ll also be able to spot chamois and marmots, and learn about countless species, many of which originate from this part of the Pyrenees.

You’ll have the chance to gather the wild mushrooms and woodland fruits that are particular to this region, so that you can enjoy a different gastronomic experience trying out the most natural products that Andorra has to offer.

Andorra is also a place where families can do trips together, in the Sorteny Valley, for instance, or along the ancient trades trail in Sant Julià de Lòria. The former is a low-altitude mountain route with more than 800 species of flowers, some unique to the Pyrenees.

If you’re a more experienced hiker, we recommend you have a go at climbing up Comapedrosa, the highest peak in Andorra, standing at 2,942 metres.

Another of our recommended routes allows you to discover the beauty of the Madriu-Perafita-Claror Valley, a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

And we couldn’t possibly go without mentioning the routes you can take around the Cirque of Pessons, the Incles Valley or the Enclar Valley, an area renowned for having the country’s largest reserve of chamois.

Would you like to learn more about the Principality’s flora and fauna? In CENMA (the Andorran Snow and Mountain Studies Centre), you can receive specialised training on these topics, and take courses to become an expert in various aspects of the country’s natural environment, such as ecology, ethnobotany, butterflies, and so on. Check out the wide range of courses offered by the centre to find out all the things you can learn, always in the company of professional experts.

Outdoor activities
The “Aigües Tortes” of Siscaró
This lake is situated at an altitude of 2,325 metres in the Incles valley. You can follow the edge of the lake to the point where the water tumbles down into the valley, and enjoy some extraordinary views of this beautiful landscape.
If you’re a climber, then don’t forget that from Siscaró you can do the Pic de la Cabaneta, which is only a short distance away. It’s important to remember that in the summer, you’ll have to take the electric train to reach the Incles valley, as all the other accesses are closed.

The newest inhabitant of Canillo - the marmot
The natural riches of the Ransol Valley are the main draw of this route, where you’ll be able to see black pines, aspens and willow trees. If you like birds, don’t miss the opportunity to hear the call of the goldcrest, considered to be the smallest bird in Europe.

The Cirque of Pessons
Nature in its purest form. An excursion to the lakes of the Cirque of Pessons, one of the most famous areas of the Principality, will give you the chance to spot frogs and birds, like the northern wheatear or black redstart.
The Campeà Forest

The black pine is the predominant species in this forest, located in the most shaded part of Els Cortals d’Encamp. You can see some very large specimens of this tree in the area, along with many rhododendron bushes.

One of the things you’ll find most striking on this walk is the colour of the grass layer, which is full of species like the blue thistle.

Alt del Griu

This 2,874-metre peak is home to foxes and marmots, whose calls ring out among the granite rocks.

If you’re more interested in birds, then the presence of the ring ouzel will be an incentive to visit.

Collada de Beixalís and Pic de Padern

Enjoy spectacular scenery with numerous birds of prey.

The Collado de Beixalís pass is at an altitude of 1,795 metres, at the border between the parishes of La Massana and Encamp.

A climb to the top of the Pic de Padern will give you a wonderful view over the parishes of Escaldes-Engordany and Encamp, and in particular, the Madriu valley. You’ll also be able to look down on the Rivers Valira del Nord and Orient and see how they join to form the impressive Gran Valira, the Principality’s largest river.
Tristaina Glacial Cirque

An interpretation trail will help you discover the natural treasures of the Tristaina glacial cirque, teaching you about its flora and fauna, the lakes and the geological fault that passes through the area.

But the real star of Tristaina is, without doubt, the stoat. This small carnivorous mammal is one of the most charming inhabitants of the high mountains.

Ordino

Estanyó Lake

This route will take you through one of the richest natural environments in Andorra. Apart from enjoying the fantastic views, you'll also be able to see archaeological remains and various high-mountain plant species.

The walk up to this glacial lake will take you past unique flowers, such as the European cinquefoil, and you'll enjoy the company of blue tits and crossbills, two birds that are common in this region. In the highest areas it is also common to see white partridges, bearded vultures and, regularly, golden eagles.

Ordino

| | | 4 h | More information on guided excursions a Ordino Tourist Office (p. 114). |

Following the trail of fauna

This route lets you discover many of the secrets of the Sorteny Nature Park. You'll pass through large wetlands and learn about the botanical importance of their nearly 300 plant species, see the remains of past livestock activity, and discover fauna through what they leave behind. You can also do some birdwatching at the viewpoint.

Lake Esbalçat

The trip from Castellar to Lake Esbalçat is a must for any nature-lover visiting Andorra. This short route will entrance you with the beauty of its surroundings.

The lake is situated in the parish of Ordino. It provides spectacular views of the area of Aracalís and the peak of Font Blanca.

Pla de l’Estany

This part of the Comapedrosa Valleys Nature Park has a magical beauty, enhanced by the sight and songs of many different birds, such as white wagtails, robins and tits.

Pic dels Llacs

This mountain on the border with Spain combines nature and history, as smugglers used to pass through here. Enjoy the incredible views from this peak, as well as the wide range of mountain plants and animals.

As the highest point of the Setúria valley, the peak affords an unparalleled view of this plateau, and the right-hand slope of the Tor valley. We recommend that you do this route in the spring to see the Pulsatilla vernalis in all its glory. Known as the spring pasqueflower, it is white on the inside, with lilac tones on the outside, and hairy leaves.
Aigüesjuntes

A fairytale setting, brimming with fantasy, where waterfalls, ancient fir woods, violets and aquatic plants combine to create a stunningly beautiful landscape. This route goes from the forest of Aigüesjuntes to the Comapedrosa Natural Park. A perfect place to listen to the typical birds of the area, such as the goldcrest and song thrush.

If you’re interested in the fauna of Andorra, take the trail that leads to the Pla de l’Estany river, the home of the Pyrenean newt, one of the amphibious animals that arouses the most interest.

| LA MASSANA | July & August morning & afternoon | €8/€4 | Starting Point: La Massana Tourist Office. Children between 6 and 12 years old: Half price. Children under 6: Free |

Anyós, Padern forest

A complete tour which passes through a setting of outstanding natural beauty. The walk starts from the Romanesque church of San Cristóbal, a small architectural gem sitting on a hill.

The route also includes the Padern forest, full of red pines, and the Beixalís pass. Don’t miss out on the incredible views you’ll see during the trip!

| LA MASSANA | July & August morning & afternoon | €8/€4 | Starting Point: La Massana Tourist Office. Children between 6 and 12 years old: Half price. Children under 6: Free |
The Enclar valley

The presence of a large population of chamois is one of the main attractions of the Enclar valley, which is one of the parts of Andorra most popular with visitors interested in the country’s wildlife.

Sant Vicenç d’Enclar is also home to an impressive range of wild plants, which you can see at their very best by visiting in the spring and summer months. You won’t be able to take your eyes off the beautiful wild roses found in these parts.

Depending on the time of year, you’ll also be able to view sparrowhawks, kites and peregrine falcons during your walk.

| ANDORRA LA VELLA |prior booking | 9.00 h | 3-4 h | € | Andorra la Vella Tourist Office (p. 114). |

Obaga d’Andorra la Vella viewpoints

The viewpoints provide amazing views of Andorra la Vella.

This is an excursion without a very steep slope to discover the Roc dels Senders viewpoint, Bosc Negre viewpoint, Roc de Palomera and Roc de Solobre viewpoints.

The route will take us into Palomera forest, where we’ll be able to see the characteristic plants and animals in this setting.

Guided tours during summer months.

Tour of Fontverd

Fontverd lies at the heart of the Madriu valley, recognised as a World Heritage Site by UNESCO. This walk will take you through the area’s forests and along its canals, as well as visiting the refuge.

This is a circular route of moderate difficulty. Bear in mind, though, that it is 13 kilometres long and will take 6 hours. The easy route makes it an ideal walk for the family to do together.

As a curious aside, you should know that the plants of the Madriu valley were used in ancient times as natural remedies for the ailments of the local inhabitants.

| ESCALDES-ENGORDANY | Every day | 8.00 h | 6 h | € 23 | Escaldes-Engordany Tourist Office (p. 114). |
LAKES

Discovering the high mountain lakes of Andorra is a unique experience that will give you a much better understanding of how the lands of the Principality have evolved.

The lakes are also incredibly beautiful, located in an unrivalled setting and home to a wide range of species.

Andorra has more than 80 lakes, but here we’d like to pick out the 6 that are most important, both for their natural riches and the part they play in forming a privileged environment that is worth visiting to appreciate its spectacular beauty first-hand.

For anyone interested in active tourism, who also wants to discover the landscapes Andorra has to offer, a trip to the lakes is one of the prettiest and most memorable options. If you’re considering a trip of this kind, it’s important for you to have all the information available on the country’s principal lakes.

Outdoor activities
1  Lake Juclà

This lake of 21.3 Hectares is the largest lake in Andorra.

Its intense blue waters will entrance you with their incredible colour and are certain to make you come back for another visit.

2  Lake Moreno

You reach Lake Moreno by leaving Borda del Tresà and heading for the River Ensagents along a path surrounded by a forest of black pines, including some really huge specimens.

The lake, fed by a spring of underground water, is one of the most popular with visitors, who are also drawn by the beauty of its natural setting.
3  Tristaina Lakes Circuit

The Tristaina lakes lie in one of the most typical natural regions of the Andorran countryside, and boasts some of the greatest variety of species, of both flora and fauna. Reaching the lakes and exploring the area is no problem, thanks to the easy access provided by the marked trail, which we advise you to follow, especially if you are travelling with children. This makes it the perfect outing for the whole family to do together.

One of the area's key attractions is the great range of wildlife and plants you can find by the lakes. Along the signposted trail, there are information panels telling you exactly which species you will come across during your walk. We should also point out that this is one of the most important natural habitats of the stoat in Andorra, and the mammal can be found throughout the lake region.

4  Black lake (estany negre) Comapedrosa Natural Park

The Comapedrosa is the highest peak mountain in the Principality of Andorra. The nature park of the same name includes this lake, which is of glacial origin, as are many others in the area.

This route will allow you to discover, first-hand, what the country’s high mountain region is really like.
5 Lake de la Nou

Another of Andorra's major lakes, which you really must visit if you are exploring active tourism in the Principality.

The path here leaves the station at Naturlandia and reaches Port Negre and the Claror refuge, before leading you to the lake where you can take in the oasis of calm that it offers.

You can also enter from Andorra la Vella and Escaldes-Engordany.

6 Lake Engolasters

The perfect lake for you to enjoy on your family holidays, as its location enables easy access for both adults and children.

There are also restaurants and links to other walks, so that you can organise your own full day out in and around the high mountains of Andorra.

Although the lake lies in the parish of Encamp, it is also possible to get to it via Escaldes-Engordany.

Next to the lake there is the Pardines path (about 3 kilometres long), with a botanic garden and a coal bunker.
TOURISM AND MOUNTAIN LIVESTOCK HANDBOOK

Recommendations

- Any gates that you come across on footpaths should be left as you found them (open or closed).
- Avoid straying off marked paths.
- If you come across any animals, try to leave as much space as possible as you pass them and do not make any noise. Keep a distance between you and any animals.
- Do not touch or stroke young animals, including foals and calves. The mother is likely to be close by and could attack you to defend her offspring.
- Keep your dog under control and on a lead.
- Do not carry bags in your hands (animals may react abruptly if they think that you are carrying salt).
- Do not feed animals.
- Do not frighten or chase animals.
- If you are travelling in a vehicle and you come across animals on the road (cows, horses), do not beep your horn, wait for them to move out of the way of their own accord. Do not ever try to force them to move, you could cause an accident.
Outdoor activities

SHEEP DOGS

You may come across sheep dogs whilst walking in the mountains. You should know that these dogs are trained to protect the flock. They do not attack, but rather try to dissuade you from getting too close. They may be large and strong, and they bark to instil respect. If they feel there is danger, they will put themselves between the threat and the flock and bark. If the person they perceive to be an intruder ignores this, the dogs may try to confront them, therefore:

✔ Always:
Ignore sheep dogs.
Do not approach them and do not try to stroke them.

If you encounter a flock of sheep, keep your distance.
Be careful with conduct that may seem normal to you (trying to feed them, stroking them, taking a photo etc.). The dogs could interpret these actions as being aggressive.
If you come face-to-face with a sheep dog, stay calm and passive in order to reassure it.
If you have a pet dog with you, keep it on a lead; try to avoid it coming face-to-face with the sheep dog.

Coexistence

Mountain tourism is fully compatible with livestock farming as long as the environment and other users are respected.

Livestock farming is a traditional activity in our territory which gives life to the mountains.

Livestock farming contributes to preserving the landscape, keeping the mountains and pastures in good condition and preventing fires.

In the summer, we all enjoy being in the mountains, but for five months of the year it is the habitat of livestock animals. They eat there, they sleep there and they move across the land following ancestral pastoral routines.

Thoughtless attitudes, resulting from a lack of knowledge regarding the possible reactions animals may have to certain conduct should be avoided.

Riding a horse through Andorra is a unique experience that will give you the chance to discover some of the most impressive natural and historical sites in the country, first-hand.

If you are tempted by the idea of riding horseback as part of your tour through Andorra, there are many different clubs and riding schools that will provide you with a mount and, of course, help you improve your technique.

Also, professional guides highly experienced in this type of outing will advise you about the routes that you can follow to discover the essence of Andorra, on the back of a horse.

Riding along ancient paths through forests, or any other route through the nature of Andorra, you’ll find special hidden corners of this country from a very different perspective to travelling by car.

Come and enjoy outdoor adventures and experiences like this during your stay with one of two entreprises of the country.
Nòrdic Aventura Equestrian Centre

Located in Canillo this centre organises horse rides through Soldeu and El Tarter, always with the help of professionals to guarantee a safe and successful outing. For this, they also use Mérens horses, a typical breed of the high mountains which stands out for its stable footing on the type of terrain where these rides take place. These horses receive all the attention they need in the centre, to ensure that they are in the best possible condition to make the trip.

Riding club l’Aldosa

Backed by more than 20 years’ experience, this equestrian centre and riding school is one of the best places to enjoy horses during your stay in the Principality of Andorra.

The centre’s Spanish cross-breed horses have been chosen specially for their character and great ability to handle high-mountain terrain. In this way, you can count on having the very best type of horse for your rides around the mountains and valleys of La Massana. Are you going with children? Don’t worry, the centre also has ponies and can organise an introduction to riding for the youngest members of the family. In this way, the whole family can discover the very best of la Massana on horseback.

Two of the most interesting excursions organised by the l’Aldosa club are the route of las Molleres and the Costas de Giberga, perfect for those who have no horse-riding experience, and the circuit around Anyós, which includes an amazing 1-km gallop!

Are you looking for something even more exciting? Then take an outing on horseback through the Comapedrosa natural park and the high mountains of the Pyrenees. On our suggested route, you ride all the way up to your refuge situated at 2200 metres above sea level, a unique experience taking you past incredible scenery, all in the special company of your favourite animal.

Discovering the natural treasures of this park on horseback is, without doubt, the most original and personal way of appreciating its rocks, forests, streams, plants and wildlife, with your own eyes. Get ready to see lizards of all types and sizes.
BICYCLE TOURING AND MOUNTAIN BIKE ROUTES

Many visitors wonder what would be the most memorable excursion for them to go on during their time in Andorra. It’s a really hard question, because the options are practically limitless.

The marked mountain bike and e-bike cycle paths in the heart of nature will enable you to discover some of the most outstanding places in the Andorran mountains and valleys. But these not the only options for active tourism on offer in this country by any means.

Andorra’s ski stations are definitely one of the star attractions among the range of fun outdoor activities on offer. In winter, of course, they are the perfect base for fans of skiing and other winter sports. But the range of leisure activities they provide doesn’t end there. In summer, they offer different options, becoming a hub for activities like karting or open-air free-riding, aimed at both adults and children.

They even organise bike tours into the high mountains, with hundreds of different routes for cyclists of all kinds. And with a whole range of destinations. Doing a trip like this, you’ll get to know the mountain passes and other natural treasures of the Andorran landscape.

Whether you’re an expert cyclist or riding a mountain bike for the first time, you’re bound to find a route to suit you.

We shouldn’t forget that cycling is a sport with deep roots in this country, and there are various initiatives for promoting Andorra as a cycling destination. The Vallnord Bike Park La Massana is a big project, aimed at ensuring that cyclists visiting the Principality can enjoy the various circuits specially designed for biking, with all the necessary conveniences. With categories like cross-country, off-route, four-cross, downhill... you’re sure to have a fantastic day out. Just choose the type of biking you’d prefer and where you’d like to do it.

At the same time, if you’re a keen cyclist but you prefer quieter routes, then you’ll find areas for BMX and cycle lanes suitable for cycle touring. A more relaxing experience, no doubt, but just as satisfying when it comes to discovering the country’s most memorable spots.

In Escaldes-Engordany, between Serrat d’Engolasters and Coma del Favar, there is a 1,100 metre mountain bike circuit. The trail features three skills workshops, six mountain bike trial workshops, jumps, banked turns and wooden bridges. The circuit is a free public space where anybody, from beginners to experts alike, can mountain bike while discovering the richness of the natural environment.

You’ll find detailed information about them in the cycle tourism guide, available at the tourist information offices (p. 114). Mountain bike circuit and mountain bike and e-bike rentals (p. 105).
FISHING

In spring and summer, Andorra is one of the favourite destinations for those who like fishing in the high mountains.

Salmon and trout, two genuine river fish, are the main species to be found in Andorra, in all their different varieties. If you like the sport, then we promise you that fishing in the lakes, rivers and streams of Andorra is an experience that you'll never forget.

We should also mention the country’s fishing reserves which offer controlled fishing, in addition to the rivers and lakes where you can fish freely. There are also four intensive fishing zones, three natural reserves, and three catch-and-release areas.

Please note the following intensive fishing zones in Andorra, with their corresponding start and end dates:

• Lake Engolasters and the River Ós: from 14/3 to 15/11

- The River Valira del Nord from 4/4 to 18/10
- The Tristaina lakes from 13/6 to 01/11

Meanwhile, the Sorteny Valley Nature Park, the Cirque of Pessons and the River Manegor contain the natural reserves established by the Andorran government for the control of fishing, from 15th June to 13th October.
You should also take note of the following stretches of river which are catch-and-release zones:

- From Valira del Nord to la Cèrtinada: from 4/4 to 18/10
- From Valira d'Orient to Encamp: from 4/4 to 18/10
- The River Pal to Ert: from 4/4 to 18/10
- Lake Primer dels Pessons: from 13/6 to 18/10
- River Gran Valira: from 14/3 to 15/11

Finally, Mig de l'Angonella lake, Mig d'Ensagents lake and Canals Roges del Siscaró are preserved between June 13th and November 1st.

One of the main advantages of fishing in Andorra is that the country offers hotels and accommodation especially designed for anglers. They also offer special services, such as download of tracks data or transportation of tackle from one hotel to another.

So if you want to take a fishing trip through the various regions of Andorra, you’ll have all the facilities you could possibly need. The hotel will even provide a packed lunch for you to take with you, however far you are going.

GOLF AND PITCH & PUTT

Andorra’s mild spring temperatures make it the perfect place to practice outdoor sports, while you gaze upon the scenery and discover the country’s incredible flora and fauna. All this, with the added benefit that Andorra’s terrain is perfect for a wide range of sports.

Golf Soldeu

It may seem mad to consider playing golf at over 2,000 metres above sea level, but in Grandvalira you can do precisely that. This Andorran ski station includes a golf course amongst its facilities, which can be reached by an 8-person cable car. With 9 holes and par 33, not only does it have all the requirements needed for a good game, but it also gives you the chance to enjoy amazing scenery while you play. A real luxury which any good golfer will find hard to resist.

Golf Soldeu also has a training centre, practice area and instructors, as well as a Club House serving excellent food accompanied by extraordinary views. A real high-altitude experience for sportsmen and women who love nature!
Vall d’Ordino P&P and Golf Club

A few kilometres from Ordino, in one of Andorra's prettiest valleys, you can also play golf on this small but complete 9-hole course. The facilities and layout, involving a gentle course with some amusing details, make it the perfect place both for expert golfers and beginners who need to get in some practice with the clubs. Of course, the incredible surroundings are an added bonus that help you to relax as you play your favourite sport.

Pitch & Putt El Torrent

Pitch & putt is a different concept of golf course, a smaller space that makes games more convenient for players, as they don’t need to a lot of equipment to get around.

Pitch & Putt El Torrent is another way for you to enjoy some golf, whether you’re a beginner or a professional.

The river running alongside the whole course lends a game of golf here a truly bucolic feel. Players can enjoy the incredible natural surroundings that are typical of the whole Principality of Andorra.

Outdoor activities
CLIMBING ROUTES

The particular terrain and geographical location of Andorra make this country the ideal place for climbing. And there’s the added bonus of its wonderful countryside, which makes an incredibly beautiful setting for enjoying the mountains, via ferratas and rock climbing walls.

Directions
Riu d’Urina Waterfall
One of Andorra’s most exceptional rock climbing areas, above all due to its spectacular waterfall, which passes through the centre of a wall of limestone rock. Located near the village of Canillo, it is considered to be of medium-low difficulty. The climb has 12 equipped routes with self-expanding bolts.
12 routes - Difficulty: from 3 to 6a.

Pic de Ribuls
This peak in the Cirque of Pessons, in the area of Grau Roig, rises to 2,780 metres. This means that you’ll be able to enjoy pleasant temperatures, when climbing in summer. The rocks are granite, with bolts and spits to help your ascent.
Pico de Ribuls offers four medium-difficulty climbing routes that you’ll manage without problem if you already have a certain amount of experience in the sport.
4 routes - Difficulty: 5 to 6a.

Encodina Sector
This climbing area is located a few kilometres from the resort of Ordino-Arcalis. Facing north-east at an altitude of 1,850 m, it is known for its large face with two fissures, which are a real challenge for climbers.
Due to its location, we recommend climbing Encodina in the spring or summer. You’ll find thirteen routes of medium-high difficulty, on limestone-schist rocks with a light covering of lichen. 13 routes - Difficulty: from 4+ to 6c+

Roc dels Palinquermons
Roc dels Palinquermons is the rocky base of the Uïna mountain ridge, by the Valira del Nord river bridge, at Santa Bàrbara. This section of rocky wall has a range of sports facilities for child beginners and for doing mountain activities, mainly climbing and via ferrata.

8 very low difficulty routes (grades 2 and 3) for children who are just started out.

Sant Antoni de la Grella
If you like climbing, you must try some of the routes in the two sectors of Sant Antoni de la Grella. With east-facing limestone rocks at a height of 1,150 m, this is a compulsory destination for all fans of high-altitude sports.

You’ll be amazed by the area’s natural beauty, particularly because of its setting alongside the River Valira del Nord. Its 18 routes of medium-high difficulty are equipped with parabolts and chemical anchors. 18 routes - Difficulty: from 5 to 7c.

Roc de la Coma d’Erts
It has 15 routes and its difficulty is from 4 to 6a (medium).
Llastra de l’Obac
This is a fairly flat limestone rock with chemical anchors and a difficulty rating of moderate, in principle. However, due to the large amount of vegetation surrounding the rock, it’s best to avoid this climb on wet days if you don’t want problems with slipping.

3 routes - Difficulty: from 5a to 6b

Agulles d’Engolasters
Climb Agulles d’Engolasters and you’ll be rewarded with an impressive view of the valley of Andorra. This climbing area is located in the parish of Escaldes-Engordany, near Lake Engolasters, and is formed by impressive needle-shaped granite rocks measuring up to 30 metres in height.

17 routes - Difficulty: from 4 to 6b

Coll Jover Boulder
Situated near Lake Engolasters, this area comprises granite walls up to 18 metres high, with a medium-high difficulty rating.

The five sectors forming this climbing area offer a total of 41 routes, equipped with chemical anchors. If you decide to climb here, don’t forget that there’s a picnic area with a supply of drinking water nearby.

41 routes - Difficulty: from 4 to 8a

Outdoor activities
Canillo Climbing Wall
A short distance from the village of Canillo, you’ll find this outside climbing wall, which is 33 metres high. Before you start to climb, take note of the different areas it offers with levels of difficulty for experts and beginners.

Cortals d’Aventura Climbing Wall
This climbing wall is located on the road to Cortals d’Encamp. It occupies a space of 800 m² and stands 17 metres high. Explore its different areas and discover the various levels of difficulty the wall offers.

Climbing Wall Pas de la Casa Sports Centre
This 20 metre-high climbing wall (fee applicable) has no inclination at all. And because it’s located indoors, you can climb at any time of the year.
Ordino Climbing Wall

Sport and natural surroundings. This outside climbing wall offers you all these things, and stands out in particular for the great amount of sunlight it receives. Although only ten metres tall, it offers as many as 15 climbing routes with different levels of difficulty. A fun climbing wall for both children and adults alike.

Fiter i Rossell Climbing Centre

Modern multi-purpose sports centre suitable for all audiences and levels. The facility features a climbing area with 10 permanent routes, from beginners to a difficulty level of grade 7c, with a height of 6.5 metres, a width of 6.6 metres and a surface area of 110 square metres. One of the great new features of the climbing centre is the Moon Board, a climbing wall that uses lights to display different bouldering problems through a mobile app.

Located at the Fiter i Rossell Social and Leisure Centre, floor -3.

You must pay to get in.

Canal de Mora 1 and 2

This via ferrata is located in the parish of Canillo. 400 metres long, with an altitude gain of 200 m, this is a low-difficulty climb. So you'll have no problem completing it, even if you don’t have much experience in this sport.

Before attempting this via, you should be aware that there are two routes and that you may come across water or ice, depending on the time of year. Also bear in mind that there are no escape routes.

*This is the second route up this via ferrata, which you can choose to get a different view of the Canal de Mora.

Roc del Quer

This via ferrata is located at the entrance to Canillo. It has a high difficulty rating and involves an ascent of 350 metres. You’ll notice, in particular, that the route has a truly aerial feel, located as it is in the middle of the rock face, without any escape paths.

Racons

One of the most impressive via ferratas to be found in Andorra, especially because the path is so vertical and has sections of overhanging wall, which won’t allow you to lower your guard at any moment. For experts only.

Canal del Grau

This is the natural continuation of the Racons via ferrata. You’ll be surprised by the pretty scenery and the lush vegetation bordering the via. In addition, you’ll encounter a little of everything during your trip: from bridges and chains to flanking sections.
Vía cable 1
Experts are not sure if Vía Cable is a climbing route with a safety line or a true via ferrata. In any case, it’s a climb worth making if you are in the area of Canillo, especially for the various rappels it offers.

Roc del Gos
The first section is shared by the other two via ferratas in the Canal de Mora. It starts on the left side where the canal closes off, at around the same level of variant 2 of the Canal de Mora via ferrata. There is an optional 85 metre rappel at the end.

Vía cable 2
Discover the second route of this Andorran via ferrata, and decide if you find it easier.

Roc del Gos Rappel
One option is to go up the Canal de Mora via ferrata and then find the Roc del Gos via ferrata on the left, which you can go up for a few metres before turning off to the left. You can also get there from the trail that goes to the Roc del Quer Viewpoint (up or down). In that case there is an additional 15 metre rappel.
Clots de l'aspra

A perfect via for children and adults starting out in this type of activity. It rises to an altitude of 2,200 metres and makes for an entertaining trip, which even includes Tibetan-style suspension bridges.

Bony d’Envalira

This is a high-altitude via ferrata of medium difficulty. It is excellently equipped, but we often need to rely on the natural holds in the rock in order to make our way up.

Coll dels isards (right)

The right-hand branch of this via has a high difficulty rating, principally because of the high technical level required. It's an excursion best done in summer, as its highest point is 2,700 metres above sea level.

The left-hand branch is a shorter and easier way to successfully complete this via ferrata.
Creu del Noral
Situated in the famous Segudet forest, this via is classified as easy and access is very straightforward, as it starts at the end of the adventure forest trail.

Tossal gran d’Aixovall
This easy via ferrata is notable for its urban location and short length. It starts by the River Gran Valira and climbs the side of Tossal Gran.

Roc d’Esquers
One of the best-known via ferratas in Andorra, standing out for its vertical sections. It’s a favourite amongst hikers and anyone who enjoys moving around at heights. At the end of the route, you come to a suspension bridge.
CANYONING

If you want to discover the high mountains of Andorra from a different viewpoint, you must try sliding your way down one of its 5 ravines.

Rappelling, tobogganng or descending into the pool of a high-mountain river - these are some of the things you’ll have to do if you decide to go canyoning in Andorra’s great outdoors. An unforgettable experience that you will definitely want to repeat.

La Canaleta Ravine
Located between Arcalís and El Serrat, this is one of Andorra’s high-level ravines.
This is an open alpine gully, with a drop of 150 metres. It has the longest rappels in Ordino and may be difficult to descend at some points. If you want to try it, the experts recommend checking the river flow after any rains and in spring, as some of the rappels are done in the water. The whole descent takes a maximum of 2 hours.

Encodina Ravine
This low-level ravine is situated very near the Sorteny Nature Park. It is 280 metres long and involves an altitude drop of 50 metres, but you must take care in the last pools during the descent, as whirlpools may form if the current is strong. Ziplines are one option you can use to avoid them.
This ravine can be reached easily from Ordino. Pass through the villages of Cortinada, Llorts and El Serrat and carry on towards the ski station. Upon reaching the road to the Sorteny park, continue towards the left until you reach the Encodina rest area, where a path leads to the ravine.

Torrent de l’Aviar Ravine
This ravine in Solá d’Encamp is suitable for you to experience the sensation of a descent. It is also situated in wonderful natural surroundings. So you’ll be able to watch animals like the muflon in their own habitat.
Segudet Ravine

If it’s your first time canyoning, then you should descend the Segudet ravine, one of the most straightforward in Andorra. It’s also ideal for families with children, although you must bear in mind that the narrowest stretch could be difficult if the current is strong.

Ensegur Ravine

One of the ravines with a high difficulty rating that you can descend in Andorra. Located near Llorts, it is 1,700 metres long and descends 250 metres. Among other things, you’ll have to face small ramps, protrusions, slippery rocks, and very cold water. A real adventure for canyoning experts!
ADVENTURE CIRCUITS

Are you visiting Andorra with the family? Here you'll find a range of options for children and adults to have fun, thanks to the two large adventure circuits that have been set up in the area. These offer you the best possible combination during your stay: privileged surroundings of great beauty and safe, modern facilities, designed specially for sporting and outdoor activities.

Bosc Aventura

Bosc Aventura stands in the middle of the forest beside Lake Engolasters, at the gateway to the Madriu Valley. It’s a privileged environment.

The 3 circuits at this family fun centre promise more than 2 hours of excitement for children and adults, from 5 to 75 years old.

Are you after extreme thrills? Choose the red circuit, with its various catwalks, bridges and zip-lines. All of the circuits at Bosc Aventura combine aerial activities with others where the visitors move at ground level.

Bosc de Segudet

Get ready for excitement up high in Ordino’s forest. The facilities here are designed so that thrill-seekers stay up high in the trees until completing their course, which includes monkey bridges, zip-lines, swinging ropes and many other obstacles.

The forest also contains two simple via ferratas, and an area dedicated to fun activities for small children. The area is designed so that the whole family can have its moment of fun, enjoying outdoor activities in the heart of nature.
 ROUTES THROUGH THE SNOW

Another of the winter sports that you mustn’t miss out on during your stay in Andorra is a walk in snowshoes, accompanied by professional mountain guides. There are routes of varying difficulty for you to choose from according to your physical condition, so that you can discover Andorra’s unique nature spots in the snow.

Want to take it further? Try one of the guided snowmobile excursions that leave from different locations around Andorra and that can be adapted to suit anyone’s driving experience.

Can you imagine exploring the snowy mountains of Andorra by dog sled? These winter sports are some of the very special experiences you can enjoy during your stay.

Activities with children

Children can also enjoy Andorra. The activities suitable for little ones includes horse rides and nature trails, among many other options.

The country is full of pleasant easy walks, like the Rec del Solà Trail or the Iron Route, a fun educational activity in which parents and children up to 12 can find out about the rich cultural and natural heritage of the area. Also, in the Sorteny Valley and Comapedrosa Valley nature parks, you can take guided tours to discover the flora and fauna that are typical of the area.

Some of the places you really must visit if you are travelling with children are the hydroelectric trail in Engolasters and the Nature Centre in Cortinada. And why not go for a horse ride? Everything is possible here.

Have you ever heard of the Tamarros? Some say they don’t exist and that they were invented to play tricks on gullible people, but there are many that really do exist! There is one in each parish hidden by forests and meadows. Find them all!

MAKING YOUR WAY...

For an excursion with your children, don't miss out on these gentle, enjoyable, one to two-hour walks:

📍 Obac Route
How to get there: 500 m after C-101 route. (Andorra la Vella)

📍 Red cockerel route
How to get there: Take CG-2 to the Canillo car park – the route begins by the phone booth. (Canillo)

📍 Lake Engolasters

📍 Iron route
The Iron Route to Andorra is part of the cross-border Pyrenean iron route, awarded by the Council of Europe.
How to get there: CG-3, Llorts town on the right, start of iron mines.
Iron Route on your back: The Iron Route on your back is a fun, educational activity designed for families with children from 7 to 12 years. (Ordino)

📍 Healthy Way for Human Rights
A path that begins in Sant Julià de Lòria and ends in Ordino.
How to get there: Av. Rocafort - Av. Francesc Cairat (beside the river). (Sant Julià de Lòria)

📍 Search for it (Vall d’Incles)
Let us suggest a game for you and your family or friends. It involves exploring the six major trails through the Vall d’Incles, and having fun, playing games and winning prizes along the way. (Canillo)

📍 Incles by Backpack
10 activities to help children discover the Vall d’Incles. (Canillo)

📍 Incles Valley Permanent Orienteering Course
Discover one of the most valuable heritage sites in Canillo in a different way, by doing the Incles orienteering course! (Canillo)

📍 Solà Irrigation Canal
The Solà irrigation canal in Andorra la Vella is one of the two viewpoints along the Anella
Verda (Green Ring) and one of the parish’s green lungs. The irrigation canal trail is flat and easy, making it ideal for families. There is a viewpoint and refreshment point in the middle of the route. The trail is a great place to take in the huge botanical and geological variety of the mountains. Guided tours available during the summer months. (Andorra la Vella)

Comapedrosa interpretative trail
A circular trail through the Vall del Comapedrosa, where both children and adults can discover the valley’s secrets. The trail can also be combined with geocaching, which is a fun activity for all the family. Children will also be given an Explorer’s Diary: a fun book filled with games. (La Massana)

Camí de les Pardines
On the Camí de les Pardines you can do the Botanical Interpretation Circuit with 14 zones, each representing a different habitat of Pyrenees alpine, sub-alpine and mountainous ecosystems, and learn about the traditional uses of fruits, leaves, stems and wood. We recommend doing it between June and October to enjoy its most sublime moment. (Encamp)

Bosc Viu
A living forest easily accessed from the nearby village of Ordino. There is a kids area where they can learn the true story of the “tió de Nadal” which grows every year in the magical forest. (Ordino)

The Circuit of the Springs
A place where you can spend a day with the family, go for a picnic, sunbathe, go on a cycling tour, go climbing, do a Via Ferrata, enjoy the acrobatic park in the middle of the forest, take part in an orienteering race, view the Romanesque architecture, discover the Madriu Valley (declared a World Heritage Site) and, ultimately, discover nature with all your senses. (Escaldes-Engordany)

CUB a CUB
Discover La Massana through various routes (Jobs, Animal Husbandry, Biodiversity, Dry Stone and Protective Forests), where you’ll find specific content and photos for each one. (La Massana)

During the summer, you’re guaranteed to have fun in Andorra. During the warmer months, ski resorts become activity centres where the whole family can take part in their favourite sports and games, from trampolining to karting, to name just a couple of examples.

From May to September Andorra’s ski stations forget all about the snow and become natural amusement parks, where you can have fun taking part in all kinds of activities.

Whether you’re travelling with friends or family, the range of summer leisure activities offered by these resorts is a real invitation to adventure and fun. Can you imagine riding a cable car to the highest golf course in Europe? In Andorra you can!
